The Demand Treasury Notes, and the Popular Loan.

We have received some information, in relation to the issue of the bonds for the 7-10 loan, and the demand treasury notes, from E. D. Tallman, of this city, who is engaged in signing treasury notes for the department, which is of considerable interest.

The corps of clerks are now signing about 30,000 demand notes per day. The labor is immense, and they work on them night and day. The following is a table of the amount issued to October 15th, with the denominations, and places of redemption:

New York, 10's	$60,000
" 10's	1,320,000
" 20's	1,000,000
Total	$2,980,000
Boston, 10's	$40,000
" 10's	960,000
" 20's	1,320,000
Total	$2,960,000
Philadelphia, 10's	$40,000
" 10's	960,000
" 20's	1,320,000
Total	$2,960,000
Cincinnati, 10's	$20,000
" 10's	720,000
" 20's	500,000
Total	$1,240,000
Grand Total	$11,000,000

The demand for these notes is so great, that it is impossible to supply them as fast as they are wanted. There is a strong disposition manifested in many quarters to make this kind of currency permanent, to take the place of state bank bills, as they are found very convenient in business transactions. They are redeemed upon presentation at the branches of the treasury, in the cities where they are made payable.

The bonds for the popular loan, are in amounts from $50 to $5,000, bearing an interest of 7-10ths per cent. per annum, or one cent a day on a $50 loan, running three years. The issue of these bonds is very large, amounting to from one to three millions a day, and yet depositors are obliged to wait some weeks for their bonds. This shows that the people are coming up to the help of the government with their money in a very satisfactory manner. Let the government work vigorously in putting down the rebellion and there will be no lack of means.

FROM MISSOURI.—On Friday night, Fremont was at Warsaw.

His pontoon bridge over the Osage would be finished on Saturday. Gen. Sigel's division had crossed the river. It was reported that Price and McCulloch had united their forces and were fortifying Osceola, twenty five miles distant. There is a rumor from Sigel's command that the rebels have broken up their camp and fled south.

Brig. Gen. Wyman, with 2700 men from Rolla, has captured Linn Creek, thirty miles northeast of Warsaw, dispersing a body of rebels, killing a number, capturing eighteen wagon loads of goods, and 200 prisoners.

The rebel garrison at Lexington was surprised by 150 Missouri troops, recapturing the place, and all our sick and wounded, numbering one hundred, besides two pieces of cannon. The rebels numbered 300.

Works on the fortifications at Jefferson City had not been suspended on the 20th, and no order to that effect has been received there.

DETROIT.—It is denied at St. Louis that Secretary Cameron brought an order from the President to Gen. Fremont to transfer his command to Gen. Hunter. It is said that the interview between Fremont and Cameron was of the most satisfactory character. "Now bring on your next statement."

THE GREAT NAVAL EXPEDITION fitted out for an attack upon the southern coast, will have 25,000 men. Its place of rendezvous is Hampton Roads. A large fleet has already sailed. Its destination is known only to the government. Lieut. Parker, of this city, is on the Pawnee, which is a part of the expedition.

THE OATHS THAT BIND THEM.—During the progress of the trial of northern traitors in Marion, Ohio, recently arrested, among the revelations as to the character of the infamous order of the knights of the golden circle, was the discovery of the following oaths which members of that order are required to take when initiated:

FIRST OATH.

"I do trust and solemnly promise and swear that I will not reveal any word, neither directly or indirectly of what I am about to receive, except it be to some true and faithful brother of this order, and not unto him or them until after strict examination, I shall have found him or them, as justly entitled to the same, as I myself am about to be under the no less penalty of having my body severed into four parts; the first part cast out at the north gate, the second part at the south, the third part at the east, and the fourth part at the west gate, and further promise that I will always hail and answer all signs and signals that are given to me by a brother of this order in my power to do so; and I furthermore promise and swear that I will protect and defend all constitutional democrats, their lives, property, and personal liberty from mob violence, during this southern insurrection, so long as they obey the laws of the U. S. A., let it come from whatever source it may; this obligation to be binding on me as long as the war shall last."

In whom do you put your trust?

In God.

Your trust being in God, I will give you the seal that will relieve you out of the camp of your enemy.

SECOND OATH.

"And I further promise and swear, in the presence of Almighty God and the members of the golden circle, that I will not rest or sleep until Abraham Lincoln, now president, shall be removed out of the presidential chair, and I will wade in blood up to my knees, as soon as Jefferson Davis sees proper to march with his army to take the city of Washington and the White House, to do the same. So help me God, and keep me steadfast to the same."

These "circles" are said to be scattered throughout various parts of the loyal states. Federal officers cannot be too vigilant in discovering, or too prompt in suppressing them.

STAMPED NEWSPAPER ENVELOPES.

Stamped newspaper envelopes are to be issued by the post office department immediately. They will be furnished for $1.10 per 100. A very great convenience.

Rhode Island has now in the field 2,632 infantry and five batteries of artillery, numbering in all 750 men. She is now raising one battalion of infantry, two of cavalry and three of artillery.

THE GREAT EASTERN.—It is tolerably certain that the Great Eastern will have to lay up in Liverpool until the beginning of the next year, before she can be re-equipped for another trans-Atlantic voyage.

HORSES, MULES AND WAGONS.—The government has now within the lines of the army of the Potomac, in round numbers, 30,000 horses, purchased at $120 apiece; 7,000 mules at $141; and 5,000 wagons, $110.

TENT REGIMENT.—This regiment now in camp at Milwaukee will be paid off and leave during this week for Louisville, Kentucky. All the companies are in and most of them are full to ninety-five men. The following is a list of field and company officers, and company leaders:

SECESSION HORRORS DESCRIBED BY ANDREW JOHNSON.

In his recent speech at Columbus, Ohio, Andrew Johnson thus describes the horrors of secession in Tennessee:

"While yet beseeching them to act upon their own doctrine, and let us alone, the hoofs of their cavalry were indenting our plains, and the tramp of their troops was about our homes. And yet there are those who set up the puling cry, 'Let there be no coercion!' Why, God bless you, friends, they never got anything except by coercion. They coerced Tennessee, Georgia, Alabama and Virginia out of the Union. They attempted it in Maryland—the government stopped it; they are now attempting it in Kentucky, and there the people will stop it. Their whole career has been one of coercion, of outrage, insult, blasphemy and crime. Detachments of their armaments, who were sent, as they said, to protect us from the despotism of Abe Lincoln, (?) would pass through our county, in Tennessee, on the railroad.

As they went they saw the flag of our country, the glorious old stars and stripes, floating from the gable end of an humble school house, where the little boys had placed it as an emblem of their pure and dawning love for the Union. What did these miscreants do? They stopped their train, and with hooting and ribaldry, with menaces and execrations and blasphemy, they tore it from the children and trampled it in the mire! They would enter private houses, and under the pretence of seeking for ammunition, would rummage drawers and desks, robbing the family of the money, and the females of their jewels and heirlooms. They would order their meals and their lodging in terms of insult and in terms of insult. They would feed their horses with wastefulness, and scatter their food recklessly on the ground. And after eating to the fill of their insatiable appetite, and rioting and rummaging, they would mount, and with oaths and obscenity, would tell the family to charge it all to Jeff. Davis. And this, my friends, is secession?"

They came into my own county; they called at my house. Some of their number came forward and demanded of my family whether I was at home—saying that if I was, they had come to take me, and hang me! Pleasant intelligence this, for gentlemen (!) to communicate to wife and daughter! But my daughter, indignant at their conduct, said, "No, my father is not at home; he is absent in another county, where he is making a speech for the Union; and this I presume you knew, or your cowardly crew would not have dared to show themselves at this house." They then suddenly withdrew. As they passed on through the neighborhood, they came upon the house of a Union family; the husband was not at home, but his wife, a stout-hearted woman, had her Union flag at the gate post. They insolently commanded her to remove it; she refused to do so. They threatened to take it, and she seized it; they struggled for it, but she kept her flag. They then went into the woods, cut a hickory with, and returning, scourged her person with it.

This, my friends, is secession, and these are the men you are to "compromise" with. Some of these same demons, five of them, of a man named Markham, who seeing them approach, and fearing insult and outrage to himself, if he remained, and thinking that they would not be so likely to provoke a quarrel with the family if he were not present, took his rifle from its resting place and retired unobserved by them into a little thicket hard by the house, in order to be at hand in case they offered any abuse to his family. He had an amiable wife and two daughters, the youngest a girl of about twelve years, and the oldest just blossoming into womanhood, about sixteen, as beautiful as the morning and as pure as the dew. The secessionists entered and insolently demanded dinner from their host, and for their horses. The wife told them there was the crib and the fodder, and they would give them their dinner. They took the hay and the corn and scattered it about the ground, and ordered the ladies to hasten their dinner.

In due time the meal was prepared, and soon greedily devoured. After satiating their appetites at the table, they began to address rude remarks to the wife and daughters. One attempted to make love to the young lady, when her young sister, seizing the tin horn or trumpet, which is kept in almost all rural households to make a summons to dinner or sound an alarm to the neighbors in case of an accident, sprang to the door and blew a blast. At this the hellish demon turned, drew a pistol from his girdle, fired it bullet through her brain, and with one wild shriek she fell in agonizing death at the feet of her screaming mother. That blast, the shot, the shriek, and scream, pierced the ear of the waiting father; he sprang from his retreat, he stood at his door—one glance revealed all; and taking deliberate aim, he sent his rifle's bullet straight through the villain's heart. Then, other four, alarmed at the trumpet blast, and knowing that the whole neighborhood would soon be upon them, mounted their horses and fled. The enraged father, finding them beyond his reach, turning to the slayer of his little daughter lay, seized his axe and cut his brutal body into quarters, and threw them out as only fit for the dogs to devour!

Such, my friends, is secession at home. It is robbery, rapine and murder. And it is marching upon you, and will be upon you. You must arm for your own defense. I speak not to you in fables. These things occurred not in a remote county, but right over there in Tennessee. I seem even yet to hear the shriek that went up from that young and innocent heart, as it took leave of life, so wild, so clear, so agonizing, that even angelic spirits might come to listen and avenge! Will you not then, rush to the support of your government and the rescue of your country from the reign of terror, that has no parallel in the history of civilized man?

The Janesville Gazette denies the abolition tendencies, and at the same time publishes Sen. Sumner's speech, in which he declares emancipation of slavery to be the issue, and says that it is better that we have an empty treasury than that there should be a single slave. We must judge the Gazette as we find its general tone, not from its special denials.—Madison Patriot.

We have made no special denials of that character. On the contrary we feel that we have advanced in that direction somewhat since the Patriot said in April last—"LET US ALL TURN ABOLITIONISTS."

Last Night's Report.

Special Dispatch to the Chicago Evening Journal.

QUINCY, Ill., Oct. 19.

D. H. Cadwell, a leading rebel in Lewis county, Missouri, received his just deserts on Thursday, in Lagrange. He had just returned from St. Louis, where he had been sent upon the charge of treason and indictment by the United States supreme court. He had been released from jail upon $5,000 bonds. He had no sooner reached his former home, than his old disease returned, and he commenced abusing and threatening loyal men generally, as before, and was particularly severe upon one Thomas Odor, who had assisted in his arrest, threatening to shoot him on sight. These threats were reiterated before Odor, who remarked that there was as good a time as any, and drawing his pistol, fired, the ball taking effect in Cadwell's thigh, inflicting a serious wound. It is hoped by all who know him that it will prove enough to keep him from further mischief. He is represented to be a reckless and dangerous man, and ought not to have been turned loose upon the community.

The temporary bridge across the Platte river, on the Hannibal and St. Joseph railroad, will be completed to-day, so as to pass trains. The company are building a substantial bridge, which, it is expected, will be completed in about thirty days, when the present structure will be removed.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 19.

Lord Lyons several days ago addressed a letter to Mr. Seward, secretary of state, in which he says: "Her Majesty's government were much concerned to find that two British subjects, Messrs. Patrick and Rahm, had been subjected to arbitrary arrest, and although they had been released, it could not but regard the matter as one requiring very serious consideration." Lord Lyons, under instructions, therefore, felt bound to remonstrate against such "irregular proceedings," as he designated them, and to say that the authority of Congress is necessary in order to justify the arbitrary arrest and imprisonment of British subjects.

Secretary Seward, in the course of his reply, after detailing the facts in regard to the two prisoners named in the note of Lord Lyons, says: "The proceedings of which the British government complains, were taken upon information conveyed to the president by the legal police authorities of the country, and they were not instituted until after he had suspended the great writ of freedom in just the extent that, in view of the perils of the state, he deemed necessary for the exercise of that discretion for which he, as well as his chief advisers, among whom are the secretary of war and secretary of state, is responsible by law before the highest tribunal of the republic, and amenable also to the judgment of the country and the enlightened portion of the civilized world." In conclusion Mr. Seward remarks:

"The safety of the whole people has become, in the present emergency, the supreme law, and so long as the danger shall exist, all classes of society, equally the denizen and the citizen, must cheerfully acquiesce in the measures which that law prescribes. The government does not question the learning of the legal advisers of the British crown or the justice of the defence which her majesty pays to them. Nevertheless, the British government will hardly expect that the president will accept their explanations of the constitution of the United States, especially when the constitution itself expressly would leave upon him the sole executive responsibility of suppressing the existing insurrection, while it could transfer to congress the most material and indispensable power to be employed for that purpose.

Moreover these explanations find no real support in the letter, which less in the spirit, of the constitution. He must be allowed, therefore, to prefer to be governed by the organic national law, which, while it will enable him to exercise his great trust with complete success, receives the sanction of the highest authorities of our own country, and is sustained by the general consent of the people for whom alone that constitution was established. (Signed.)

W. H. SEWARD."

To-Day's Report.

(Reported Exclusively for the Daily Gazette.)

MORNING DESPATCHES.

NEW YORK, Oct. 20.

Commercial press: Bina: LIVERPOOL.—Broadstuffs firm and upward. R. S. & Co. report flour advancing, with sales at 28s30s. Wheat firmer, and all qualities have advanced to a trifling extent. Red western and southern 10412. LONDON MARKET.—Broadstuffs firm. Latest via Queenstown: LIVERPOOL, Thursday.—Broadstuffs firm. The London Times thanks Mr. Seward for the just exercise of his judgment relative to the memorials against Dr. Russell, although his (Seward's) shows a strong upward current of spirit. The Times also repudiates the charges against Dr. Russell, and believes that the good sense of the Americans will see the folly of interfering with him.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 20.

Special to Tribune.—Two or three officers prominent in the volunteer service are suspected of giving information of our operations to the enemy. A New York colored, now under arrest for insubordination, is one of them.

Only yesterday Mr. Seward assured a member of the diplomatic body that the little affair of southern insurrection would blow over within three months. The ports would be all opened and peace and prosperity reign.

Fifteen of the N. Y. 22d went scouting yesterday and advanced nearly to Fairfax Court House. They saw about half a regiment of rebels, and no more. They were at first mistaken by the inhabitants for southern soldiers, and were enlightened as to the plans of the rebels so far as was known to the citizens. It was stated that Dearegard and Johnston intended to make no stand this side of Centerville, on the heights of which, however, if followed, they would oppose the Union forces for a while, but when pressed, would withdraw to their old position beyond Bull Run. They report no obstructions or barricades on the way. It is certain that the rebels have a very small, if any, force at Leesburg, and are evacuating it altogether, as fast as possible. The same is true of Fairfax Court House, as is established by a reconnaissance. If there is a line of defence beyond the old one, it extends towards Aquia Creek. The story that the rebels have fallen upon the Rappahannock is untrue.

The court martial in the case of Col. Miles meets to-morrow at Alexandria. His unqualified acquittal is beyond a doubt.

Times dispatch.—It was generally reported on the other side of the Potomac to-day, that Fairfax Court House has been fired and destroyed by the rebels.

The navigation of the Potomac again appears to be unobstructed. Forty-one vessels passed the batteries at Shipping Point this afternoon, and only one was hit, the ball going through her mainsail.

A contraband arrived within General McClellan's lines yesterday. He reads and writes with facility. He was attached to the Louisiana brigade, and had been stationed near Fairfax Court House.

On Wednesday they were all ordered to move back to Centerville, where it was currently reported a stand was to be made. The cause of the order to move back was the expectation of an immediate attack from McClellan. So great was their haste that they left large quantities of flour and other provisions.

Herold's dispatch.—The city has been very quiet. The advance of our forces has much diminished the number of uniforms upon the streets and around the hotels. Gen. McClellan's Sunday order appears to have been strictly obeyed.

It appears that the government has through its agents in England, purchased a large quantity of blankets to the extent of at least 300,000, and that 200,000 more are yet to be purchased. Some of these, it is said, have already arrived. Government was compelled to exercise this foresight before the approach of winter, as no blankets could be got in this market, although it is supposed several speculators are holding them back for higher prices.

In regard to the expedition fitting out to operate against Mexico, our ministers at London and Paris positively assert that neither of these governments have entered into any arrangement with Spain to join the alleged expedition. The reply to the communication of Secretary Seward, which was addressed some time ago to these governments respecting the designs of those powers, has not yet been received.

Our government has all along been assured by both England and France, that they had no object in their interference in Mexican affairs, other than to protect their citizens and to obtain reparation for outrages perpetrated upon them, and which are of long standing.

It is a remarkable fact that thus far the troops of neither army have occupied the soil of Mt. Vernon, unless it has taken place within a few days. A general watchfulness has been kept upon the place by our troops. If the rebels attempt to erect batteries there, they will be repulsed by McClellan without delay, and the place invested by a guard of honor composed of those that have distinguished themselves.

The advance of the army has rendered it necessary that the commanding general's headquarters should be removed to Virginia. Arrangements are being made, and it is expected that McClellan's quarters will be in the midst of camp on the other side.

It is said the movement of Gen. McClellan, at the head of his division, towards Leesburg, is to cut off the rebels if they have gone in the direction of Harper's Ferry, as some suppose, instead of falling back on Manassas. They have most likely done the latter, and Gen. McClellan will probably find to find an enemy in the direction he is now marching.

AFTERNOON DESPATCHES.

SYRACUSE, Mo., Oct. 20.

Major Scott, of Gen. Sigel's staff, from Warsaw yesterday, says definite and satisfactory information had been received at Sigel's camp that Gen. Price had broken up his camp in Cedar county, where he arrived last Sunday week, and where it was said he would stand and give battle, and continued his retreat toward the Arkansas line.

FORT MONROE, Oct. 20.

Some twenty persons who have been waiting here several days to go to Norfolk by a flag of truce, will return to Baltimore to-night. Neither the general nor flag officer will allow any communication with the rebels, for a number of days at least.

The released rebel prisoners from Fort Lafayette arrived here this morning, and were sent temporarily to the storehouse.

Col. Dimmick, who has been port commandant at Old Point for nearly two years, left last night for Fort Warren, Boston.

ATKINSON, Kan., Oct. 19.

Orders, to-day, have been issued by the president of Pike's Peak Express Company, at this place, to stop the running of the pony express as soon as the California line is completed, which will probably be early next week. It is therefore probable that not more than one pony more will run.

LEAVENWORTH, Oct. 20.

The Conservator of this city has advice that the town of Humboldt, in this state, has been totally burned by secessionists from the Indian country. It is thought probable that the records and papers of the U. S. land office were destroyed.

One hundred wagons and 1,000 yoke of oxen have been sent to Fremont's command within the past week from this place. The steamer Elmore, arrived here this morning from St. Louis, having come thro' unmolested by the rebels. River four feet standing.

Hudson, Mo., Oct. 20.

A messenger reports that a scouting party from Cameron numbering one hundred, have been taken prisoners by some six hundred rebels at McCables, Colwell county. Four hundred federal troops at Cameron were ready to march to their rescue when the train left. Four to five hundred rebels were in Carroll county, and had captured seventeen of Col. Morgan's men. Morgan had started in pursuit of them.

NEW YORK, Oct. 21.

The Tribune says of the various stories about regarding Fremont's command, we know this to be true, that Secretary Cameron took out with him to Missouri, full discretionary power to supersede Fremont and run over the command of his army to Gen. Hunter, and that he did not see fit to exercise that power. All beyond this is idle speculation.

Boston, Oct. 21st.

The Bangor Times publishes an extract from a letter, dated Barbados, Sept. 28th, stating that the privateer Sumter, had been captured by the U. S. steamer Powhatan.

Letters from parties in Barbados, however, of Sept. 28th, received here, make no mention of the fact.

The Markets.

NEW YORK, Oct. 21.

Flour market without important change; sales 8,970 bbls 5.30s40 super state, 5.30s40 super western, 5.60s60 common to medium extra western. Canadian flour quiet; sales 800 bbls 5.30s40 super. Rye flour steady. Wheat market heavy, 1a2 lower; sales 80,000 bu. 1.10s1.21 Milwaukee club, 1.23 for amber flour, 1.30 1/2 winter red western, 1.46 white Kentucky.

"It's what thee'll spend, my son," said a sage old Quaker, "not what thee'll make which will decide whether thee's to be rich or not." The advice was trite, for it was Franklin's in another shape. Take care of the pennies, and the pounds will take care of themselves. But it can be too often repeated. Men are continually indulging in small expenses, saying to themselves that it is only a trifle, yet forgetting that the aggregate is serious—that even the seashore is made up of petty grains of sand. Ten cents a day even is thirty-six dollars and a half a year, and that is the interest of a capital of six hundred dollars. The man who saves ten cents a day only, is so much richer than him who does not, as if he owned a life estate in a house worth six hundred dollars.

BALLOON CORPS.—The balloonist, Lowe, is forming a balloon corps for army service, and is building four war balloons in Philadelphia.

Gen. Fremont's army is in five divisions. One is commanded by Gen. McKistry, one by Gen. Hunter, one by Gen. Sigel, one by Gen. Asboth, and one by Gen. T. Price.

Assembly District Convention.

A convention of Republican delegates from Union, Porter, Magnolia, Center and Janesville convened at Ball Tavern, in the town of Porter, on the 19th of October, for the purpose of nominating a candidate for member of assembly and county supervisor for the assembly district comprising the above named towns.

Don. E. A. Foot, was made chairman, and Z. P. Burdick secretary.

Spencer from Union; G. E. Newman, E. Woodbury and J. T. Dowe from Porter; E. A. Foot, J. Wallihan and G. Crist from Center; Z. P. Burdick and Virgil Pope from Janesville, as delegates.

Correspondence of the Daily Gazette.

From the Eighth Regiment.

St. Louis, Oct. 14.

DEAR GAZETTE.—The Eighth Regiment arrived here last evening at 10 o'clock.—We all had to remain in the cars on the east side of the river all night. This morning at 7 o'clock we crossed the river and took up our line of march for "Camp Benton," at which place we have just arrived. The weather is very warm. Before leaving Madison we had orders that we must wear our overcoats; you can "fancy our phellunks" after a five mile march in the hot sun. A large number of the men had to give up from the excessive heat. It was a great mistake in the Colonel giving such an order, it was only done to show off our good clothes. I am afraid some of the men will not soon get over its effects.

All along the entire route we met with a very kind reception. The excellent collation provided by the citizens of Janesville for the regiment, elicited universal sentiments of gratitude for the generosity which had anticipated our wants. We shall all remember the citizens of Janesville, they will long bear a place in the memory of every "bold soldier boy" who partook of their most generous hospitality. We, (the Janesville boys), expected to meet with a kind reception, but the one we did meet was entirely beyond our greatest expectations. I said before that we met with a kind reception all along the route, it was one continual "God bless you," but what shall I say of St. Louis? all the five miles of streets we passed through was full of men, women and children, and it was one continual "hurray for the Union," the entire route; our flag was flying on most every house top. I never did expect to "see" such a "seen." "Little ones," old ladies and old men were crying "hurray for the Union," "God bless you, boys." I know it is sad to leave behind wives, "little ones," and dear kind friends, yet it is painful; but it is a glorious privilege to join the loyal sons of the Union in helping to maintain and defend the cause of the Union.

Mr. Editor, I find my heart is too full to write, and I must close. A portion of Company G. was very happy to meet an old "Janesville boy" at Litchfield, Illinois, Hank Bacon. I will write to you again as soon as I find any thing that I think will be interesting to your readers.

I am, truly your friend,

JOHN A. WHITE.

CAMP MURPHY, Decatur, Jefferson County, (near Big River) Mo., Oct. 17th, 1861.

Messrs. Editors:—We have now got in a secess country in earnest; we have slept on our arms for two nights in the open air. Last night we had three alarms and Company G. (Fire Zouave), was in line of battle first every pop. The devils burned the bridge over the Big river, yesterday morning, and we are now lying here with the 33d Illinois and a part of a Missouri regiment waiting for transportation. Our destination, I think, is Pilot Knob. They are expecting an attack there, and the rebels are burning the bridges on the road to prevent us reaching there in time. We have captured three of them, and one was engaged in the burning of Big river bridge. Yesterday morning they attacked 37 of our men, wounding three and killing one. They were 800 strong, mostly cavalry. Our forces killed 17 of them; they are encamped at Vinegar Hill, six miles from here, and we are going down this afternoon to see them, on our way south. George Stickney brought in a horse for me, this morning, but as I have no means of transporting him I shall have to leave him behind.

The cars are now here and we are going down to the river, to make our way across. We left five of our men in St. Louis, sick. I will write you again as soon as I have an opportunity. The men are all spoiling for a muss, and are sure to have one soon.—Give the Eighth a show and there will be a fight; we expect an attack going through to Iron Mountain. We are ready to start. Send me a paper to Pilot Knob, Iron Mountain, Missouri. Yours, &c.
